

Très Femme™ Swarovski Crystal Girly Tube
Dish on your Dilemma – Win Girly Glam Gift Pack

Vancouver, BC (March 21, 2009) – Très Femme Girly Tubes invites all women to dish on their girly dilemmas. The most interesting story wins a Girly Glam Gift Pack – a coveted clutch Monaco Bag, jeweled Couture Tank Top, Pink Coat of Arms Key Chain, and a Girly Tube.

This embarrassing moment has happened to all of us – in haste you throw a tampon in your handbag as you're running out the door. Then that same tampon pops out of your handbag (or more often...rolls out) at an inappropriate moment. Using tampons is nothing to be mortified about, but you don't need your boss, new beau or an entire dinner party to see them.

Voila! Très Femme Girly Tubes are designed to carry your tampons with privacy and more importantly, in style. Girly Tubes are perfect to store all your other girly needs: a secret stash of breath mints, special pen & paper, eyeliner, or lipstick. Adorned with Swarovski crystals and different lid options, they're the perfect, chic accessory to keep in your bag.

Très Femme invites your reader's to share their embarrassing little moment where a cute pink Girly Tube would have saved a bit of grief. Or since we're always being told how the Très Femme Girly Tubes are a great conversation piece, so we're also inviting stories on how Girly Tube did just that.

Throughout the contest we'll be updating our contest page with some of our favorite stories; adding some of your posts to our news section; and giving props and link love to the blog that the final winner comes from.

We have a limited number of product samples to offer you, please let us know if you'd like one to review. Finally, couture for your tampon.

Contest ends: May 1, 2009
